

Not used

Def. Doc. # 374

ARTICLE EXCERPTED FROM "THE JAPAN CHRONICLE"
JULY 31 1931. (page 4 )

BARON SHIDEHARA

-----
DIE-HARD PEERS PREPARING AN ATTACK
-----

A TRIP TO MANCHURIA

Since the Korean affair which was induced by the persecution of Korean farmers in Manchuria and Mongolia by the local Chinese authorities and people, says the Kobe Shimbun, the Manchurian and Mongolian problems have come to attract a great deal of public attention, and the public interest has further been whetted by the growth of anti-Japanism in Shanghai and other places ~~at~~ late. The Peers generally attribute the present deplorable state of things to the weak China policy of the present Cabinet, and they never tire of censuring Baron Shidehara in scathing terms.

The tour of inspection to Manchuria and Korea, to be undertaken at the instance of Prince Tokugawa, President of the Upper House, has brought forth many applicants for permission to join the party. Whereas the size of the party is limited to eight Peers, the Kenkyukai, the most influential faction in the House, alone has more than eight applicants. In view of these numerous applicants, the personnel of the party will have to be decided by lot.

The office-holders of the Kenkyukai met on the 29th instant to hear a detailed explanation of the conditions of the Japanese and Korean residents in Manchuria from the delegates of these residents now in Tokyo. It is noteworthy, says the local paper, that the discontent among the Peers with the China policy of Baron Shidhara is steadily growing.

not used

Def. Doc. # 374

ARTICLE EXCERPTED FROM "THE JAPAN CHRONICLE"
JULY 31 1931. (page 4 )

BARON SHIDEHARA

-----
DIE-HARD PEERS PREPARING AN ATTACK
-----

A TRIP TO MANCHURIA

Since the Korean affair which was induced by the persecution of Korean farmers in Manchuria and Mongolia by the local Chinese authorities and people, says the Kobe Shimbun, the Manchurian and Mongolian problems have come to attract a great deal of public attention, and the public interest has further been whetted by the growth of anti-Japanism in Shanghai and other places ~~at~~ late. The Peers generally attribute the present deplorable state of things to the weak China policy of the present Cabinet, and they never tire of censuring Baron Shidehara in scathing terms.

The tour of inspection to Manchuria and Korea, to be undertaken at the instance of Prince Tokugawa, President of the Upper House, has brought forth many applicants for permission to join the party. Whereas the size of the party is limited to eight Peers, the Kenkyukai, the most influential faction in the House, alone has more than eight applicants. In view of these numerous applicants, the personnel of the party will have to be decided by lot.

The office-holders of the Kenkyukai met on the 29th instant to hear a detailed explanation of the conditions of the Japanese and Korean residents in Manchuria from the delegates of these residents now in Tokyo. It is noteworthy, says the local paper, that the discontent among the Peers with the China policy of Baron Shidehara is steadily growing.